ASSOCIATION™

THE VOICE OF SCHOOL LEADERS

The National Honor Society is a program of the National Principals Association, the leading organization of and national voice for middle level and high school principals, assistant principals, and all school leaders from across the United States and more than 80 countries around the world. The association provides research-based professional development and resources and networking and advocacy opportunities to build the capacity of middle level and high school leaders to continually improve student performance.

Reflecting its long-standing commitment to student leadership development, the National Principals Association administers the National Honor Society (NHS), National Junior Honor Society (NJHS), National Elementary Honor Society (NEHS), and National Student Council (NSC). The National Principals Association Board of Directors is responsible for the operational control of NHS at the national level.

Three resources govern the operation of chapters, members, and their activities: The NHS National Constitution, this NHS Handbook, and local chapter bylaws.

NHS Constitution

All chapters must adopt and follow the NHS National Constitution. This obligation is outlined in the chartering agreement signed by the founding principal of every chapter, and assumed by subsequent principals who maintain the chapter's affiliation with the national office. The constitution of the National Honor Society is the primary governing document for all NHS chapters. It has been approved by and can be amended only by recommendation of the national office staff and a vote of the National Principals Association Board of Directors.

All policies and procedures for NHS chapters are based on the provisions of the NHS National Constitution and this handbook. The following version of the NHS Constitution was approved for all chapters on July 8, 2016, by the National Principals Association Board of Directors.
